

The Pill Kills 2012 National Symposium

Join us live at the Hyatt Regency Capitol Hill in Washington, DC, on Saturday, June 2nd, from 10 AM until 11:30 AM Eastern time, as American Life League and 30 pro-life groups across the nation present a ground-breaking symposium on the devastating impact of the pill.

Dr. Angela Lanfranchi is a breast surgical oncologist and clinical assistant professor of surgery at Robert Wood Johnson Medical School. Dr. Lanfranchi heads up the Breast Cancer Prevention Institute. Dr. Lanfranchi will give a riveting presentation of the scientific proof that the pill kills women.

EWTN personality Gloria Purvis is the charming, outspoken creator and host of the upcoming television series "Authentically Free at Last." She will discuss the impact that the pill has had on minority communities and will explain its role in black genocide. Gloria is on the board of the Northwest Pregnancy Center in the Washington, D.C. area and is chairperson for Black Catholics United for Life.

Rounding out the program is ethicist and theologian Dr. Pia de Solenni. An expert on life issues, issues related to women's health, the new feminism, and culture, she holds a Sacred Theology Baccalaureate from the Pontifical University of St. Thomas Aquinas (Angelicum) and a Sacred Theology Doctorate, summa cum laude, from the Pontifical University of the Holy Cross in Rome. In 2001, Pope John Paul II awarded her the Prize of the Pontifical Academies for her groundbreaking dissertation—an analysis of feminist theories in the light of St. Thomas Aquinas' teachings.

Our emcee, Kara Russo, is a Catholic songwriter and activist for pro-life and religious freedom issues, and is a popular guest on radio and television shows in Rhode Island. She produces "Standing for Life in Rhode Island", a television show that broadcasts throughout the state.
